

EBS Process Manufacturing Process Execution (GME)

No.	Views	Description
1	GME Batch Deleted Details	This view returns information about ingredients deleted from a formula during the production of a batch in the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of an ingredient and a batch number.
2	GME Batch Headers	This view returns information about production batch headers. This information was supplied in the Batch Details window of the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of a batch number and product.
3	GME Batch Material Details	This view returns information about production or laboratory batch materials. This information was supplied in the Batch Details window and is displayed on the View Material Details window of the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of a batch number, an item, a formula line number and a line type.
4	GME Batch Step Details	This view returns information about batch steps. This information was supplied in the Batch Steps window of the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of a batch number and batch step number.

No.	Views	Description
5	GME Batch Step Rsrc Actvty	This view returns information about batch steps along with activities and associated resources. This information was supplied in the Batch Steps window of the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of a batch number, a batch step number, an operation activity, an operation version, and a resource name.
6	GME Firm Planned Orders	This view returns information about the firm planned orders (FPOs) for items. This information is displayed on the Firm Planned Order Details window of the Oracle Process Manufacturing Process Execution module. A record is returned for each combination of an FPO number, a material type, an item, a recipe number, a routing number, and a formula number.